

ESMH Summer School
“Journalism and climate change: how to tell complex stories?”
7 - 11 June 2022, Brussels
Draft programme

Tuesday, 7 June 2022 - Arrival of the participants in Brussels

Day 1: Wednesday, 8 June 2022

8.00 - 9.00 Arrival at the EP and registration

9 - 9.30 Coffee/breakfast

9.30 - 9.45 Welcome and opening

9.45 - 12.15 SESSION 1: EU POLICY AND KNOWLEDGE BASE

- Diederik Samson, Head of Cabinet of Commissioner Timmermans (tbc)
Climate change: what the EU is doing? Raising awareness about climate urgency (the European Climate Law, the EU Green Deal ambition/Fit for 55 Package)
- State of Play on Climate challenges - the role of the European Parliament
- The latest from the climate research - speaker from the Potsdam Institute for Climate Impact Research

12.15 - 13.00 Q&A session, debate

13.00 - 14.30 Lunch break

14.45 - 16.30 SESSION 2 ‘EU and International Projects on climate change’

- Anne-Sophie Garrigou
Climate Knowledge Information Centre (KIC) initiatives
- Debbie Rosen, EU-funded Constrain project
<https://constrain-eu.org/>
- MOCHA ERC project, Centre for Climate Change & Social Transformations (CAST)
- Mauro Buonocore, Centro Mediterraneo per i Cambiamenti Climatici (online)

16.30 - 17.30 Q&A session, audience debate

Day 3: Thursday 9 June 2022

8.30 - 9.30 Arrival and registration

09.30 - 12.30 SESSION 3 ‘How could journalists get better at covering climate change?’

- Katherine Dunn, the Oxford Climate Journalism Network
- Adam Vaughan, New Scientist (online)
- Fiona Harvey, The Guardian
- Alok Jha, The Economist (Online, 12 o’clock)

Introduction and moderation by Luca De Biase, NOVA Sole24Ore

12.30 - 13.00 Q&A session, audience debate

13.00 - 14.30 Lunch

14.30 - 16.30 SESSION 4 ‘Tackling misinformation on climate change’

- Emmanuel Vincent
The interaction between fact-checkers and journalists (Climate Feedback example)
- Maribel Angél, Maldito Clima
- Andrea Arnal, Verificat & the climate misinformation program
- Simon Clark, science communicator and youtuber (Online)

Moderator: Valentina Raffio (TBC)

16:30 - 17:00 Q&A session, audience debate

ESMH Summer School
“Journalism and climate change: how to tell complex stories?”
7 - 11 June 2022, Brussels
Draft programme

Day 3: Friday 10 June 2022

8.30 - 9.30 Arrival and registration

09.30 - 11.00 SESSION 5 ‘Collaborative EU journalistic projects on climate change’

Introduction and moderation by - Emanuele Bompan, Editor in chief of Renewable matter

- Daisy Dunne, Carbon brief
- Jelena Prtoric, Arena Climate Network coordinator
<https://journalismarena.eu/the-networks/the-climate-and-energy-network/>
- Vedrana Simicevic, freelance science journalist
Overview of projects in environmental reporting with a transnational element, with a focus on the Balkan region
- Katherina Mau, freelance science journalist, Netzwerk Klimajournalismus Deutschland

11.00 - 12.30 SESSION 6 ‘Is the constructive journalism the solution?’

- Astrid Rommetveit, Climate Journalist at Norwegian Broadcasting NRK
- Kristoffer Frøkjær,
Constructive Institute for journalism, Denmark
- Prof. Dr. Myriam Bechtoldt, University of Business and Law, Wiesbaden (Germany) “Psychologists for future”

12.30 - 13.00 Closing remarks by Christian EHLER, MEP and STOA Chair

13 - 14.30 Lunch

14.30 - 15.00 Introduction to the New European Bauhaus (NEB), by the Joint Research Center, European Commission

15.00 - 18.00 Tour at the NEB Festival (see specific programme for details)

<https://new-european-bauhaus-festival.eu/>

Day 4: Saturday 11 June 2022

ESMH Summer School
“Journalism and climate change: how to tell complex stories?”
7 - 11 June 2022, Brussels
Draft programme

9.00 - 12.00 Tour at the NEB Festival (see specific programme for details)
<https://new-european-bauhaus-festival.eu/>